MR. GEORGE B. SAUFLEY.

Who was Cut Down in Brilliant Young Manhood.

It will be months before the people of this section recover from the shock occasioned by the death of Mr. George B. Saufley, mention of which was made in our Tuesday's issue. His brilliancy, his success in his every undertaking, his companionable disposition, all drew people to him and their admiration for him was great. He was one of those big-brained, broad minded, scholarly young men who impressed those who came in contact with him as did Saul of Tarsus of old. He was ripe in wisdom, though young in years, and had he lived to maturer manhood we believe he would have reached the topmost rung of the ladder of fame. As a lawyer, Mr. Saufley was at the head of his profession. A fine interrogator, able in argument and a thorough fundamental knowledge of the law, he was the peer of the very best. His services were greatly sought and his practice was probably as lucrative as that of any member of the Stanford bar. As a gentleman he stood as high and as a citizen he was among the best. His taking away is a blow not only to the aged father and mother, brothers and sisters, who almost idolized him, but to the people of his town, his county and his State as well. Mr. Saufley was born in Stanford on March 2nd, 1882, and consequently became 28 years old a few days before his demise. He finished the public school course here and then attended Centre College. After a brief period in that institution of learning, in which he at once carried off the honors of his classes, his eyes began to fail him and he was compelled to leave in his sophomore year. He sought the services of a Knoxville oculist and was under his treatment in that city some three months. He was advised to rest a year, which he did, after which he began the study of law under Hill & McRoberts. He was admitted to the bar in 1902 before Judge

T. Z. Morrow at Mt. Vernon after a rigid examination by Attorneys C. C. Williams and W. A. Morrow, the latter now dead. He opened an office here and the success that attended his efforts is well known to our people. He was a business man in the strictest sense of the term and he had already laid the nucleus for a fortune. In January last he was elected president of the Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co., succeeding his father, Judge M. C. Saufley. The popularity of the young man was shown to some extent by the immense throng that attended the funeral and burial Tuesday afternoon, the services of which were conducted by Eld. Joseph Halloway and Rev. J. J. Dick. The procession extended almost from the home on Danville Avenue to Buffalo Cemetery and the floral contributions were the most beautiful and elaborate ever seen here. The lawyers, the county officers, his young gentlemen friends each sent handsome tributes, while his friends of almost every section added their tokens of love and respect for him who was cut down in his very prime. Great sympathy is felt for those whose hearts bleed because of their great loss and the writer joins the legion of friends of Judge Saufley and family in the prayer that the Giver of every good and perfect gift will comfort and sustain them until time, that great assuager, shall cease their tears to flow. The pall bearers were Messrs. A. M. Warren, Kendrick Alcorn, T. J. Hill, George D. Florence, E. D. Pennington and T. H. Shanks, all warm friends and associates of the honorable dead.

The bars of Louisville, Frankfort, Lexington, Harrodsburg, Danville, Lancaster and the local bar sent floral tributes to his memory. His father has received many letters from men of high standing in the judiciary and legal profession speaking of his bright future and brilliant mind.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Clark Harbison bought Harry Wingate's 200-acre farm near Perryville for $8,000.

Allen and Alvey Ellis, of Casey, engaged in a shooting bee over a ham and both were wounded.

William Lyons, charged with killing Jesse Clarke, another Negro, in Lexington, was arrested in Danville.

John Sanders, a prominent Mercer county farmer, was struck by a train on the Southern railway Saturday night and probably fatally injured.

The mangled body of a miner named Wilson was found near the railroad track at Artemus, Knox county, where he had been run over by a freight train.

While splitting kindling at Berea, Mrs. Alex Hudgins, aged 24 years, dropped dead. She was apparently in the best of health. Two small children and a husband survive.

The store of R. F. Barnett near the depot was entered Friday night by burglars. A door was broken down and the safe was blown open with a charge of nitro glycerine. Between $250 and $300 in money was taken from the safe. —Advocate.

The election called by the Somerset school board on the proposition of issuing $17,500 worth of bonds to erect a new high school building, was carried by an overwhelming majority in favor of the bonds. The vote stood 260 for the bonds to 35 against them.

MATRIMONIAL.

Miller Denton and Miss Mattie Wright, both of Junction City, were married this week.

Mrs. Armstead Milner Feland announces the engagement of her daughter, Nancy Adele, to Mr. John Rutherford Watt, of Greenfield, Ohio. The wedding will take place the latter part of April.

Bailey Grinstead, son of former Mayor James F. Grinstead, of Louisville, and Mrs. Mary Hoke Smith, the daughter of A. N. Hoke, a well-known contractor, were married in Jeffersonville. The groom is a first cousin of Mrs. J. W. Ireland, of this place.

Following his refusal to tell whether he had been married to Miss May Boler, of Providence, R. I., during his absence of three days, Philander C. Knox, Jr., son of the Secretary of State, was expelled from the Morris Heights School. The young woman said they were married in Burlington, Vt.

Tip Sparks and C. J. Sipple, rivals in the feed business, had a difficulty some time ago in which blows were passed. Sipple sued Sparks for $5,000 damages and during the past week the trial has consumed several days, with the result that Sipple was given judgment of $250. —London Democrat.

NEWS NOTES.

Wesley Swaner, aged 77, is dead at East Bernstadt.

Luther Noel, 13 years old, son of Crit Noel, hung himself in his barn in Owen county.

"Jake" Schaefer, the noted billiard player, died in Denver, Col., of tuberculosis.

Nathan Skaggs, once judge of Allen county and for years a Mammoth Cave guide, is dead.

The Indiana Democratic State Convention will be held at Indianapolis on April 27 and 28.

Jockey Winkfield, of Lexington, has contracted to ride for an Austrian Count at $8,000 per year.

All schools, churches and other public places are closed at Wickliffe on account of the smallpox.

The Court of Appeals adjudged unconstitutional the act prohibiting the operation of barber shops on Sunday.

The Shubert theatrical interests confirmed the report that they are to expend $6,000,000 in the erection of a chain of 12 theaters between St. Paul and San Francisco.

Lloyd Cornwell, aged 20 years, shot and killed his stepfather, J. W. Smithson, aged 45, in Graves county. The trouble grew out of Smithson whipping a sister of Cornwell.

The annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans will take place at Mobile, Ala., April 26-28, 1910. Tickets on sale April 23 to 25, return limit May 2. Fare $12.95.

Earl D. Thomas, Jr., 30 years of age, a son of Brig. Gen. Earl D. Thomas, Commander of the Department of Colorado, with headquarters in Denver, fired a bullet into his brain in his room at a Denver hotel, dying instantly.

With a story of having been hypnotized and robbed of $35,000, a man who gave his name to the police as D. J. Telfair, and said he was manager of a dairy company of Philadelphia, came to his senses in the Emergency Hospital in Washington.

Dr. B. C. Hyde, charged with murder and attempted murder in the Swope case, was released from the county jail in Kansas City after furnishing bond in the sum of $100,000. His trial on the indictment charging murder of Col. Swope was set for April 11.

After trimming the State Fair appropriation bill down to $61,000 the House all but finally killed the measure. It was beaten, but before the parliamentary clinch could be put on Acting Speaker Schoberth declared the House adjourned. This gives the bill another chance.

Under sentence to the penitentiary for life, Beach Hargis, convicted of the murder of his father, Judge James Hargis, the Breathitt county feudist, was taken to the Frankfort penitentiary Monday. Already in the penitentiary, and also serving a life sentence, is Curtis Jett, Hargis' first cousin.

The new pressed brick administration building and dormitory at the Pythian Widows and Orphans Home, near Lexington, erected at a cost of $20,000, is completed and the building committee will meet March 21 to formally inspect and accept the structure, which will double the capacity of the institution.

Political leaders in New York united in the expression that the passing of former Senator Thomas C. Platt, will be without influence on the course of New York State politics. His retirement from politics in 1908, when his name was left off the list of delegates to both national and State conventions, was absolute and complete.

After a legal battle which has been dragged through State and Federal courts for fully 20 years, Mrs. Eva A. Ingersoll has received a certified check for $195,551.93, representing a fee which she claimed was due her husband, the late Robert G. Ingersoll, for services in breaking the will of Andrew J. Davis, a millionaire miner of Montana.

The report of the special committee appointed a month ago to investigate the alleged statement of Senator Watkins to the effect that four Senators had sold out to the liquor interests for $20,000 was made Monday. The report says a thorough and careful investigation showed there was no foundation in fact for such a statement and that it was founded on mere idle rumors. Senator Watkins attached a statement to the report saying the committee had made a conscientious investigation and that he concurred in the report. The report was adopted by the Senate.

Tony, The Convict.

The play given at Alcorn's Opera House Friday evening, Feb. 25, by the Hustonville Graded School, was, if popular opinion be the judge, quite a success. The house was well filled with a most highly appreciative audience. The music prepared by Miss Angie Carpenter was well rendered and highly interesting. The High School students who gave the play deserve special mention and praise: Hellenia Warren was characterized by Marguerite McCormack. Marguerite's ease and pleasing address made her a favorite with the audience. George Barnette gave most creditably the role of Judge Van Cruger. Mrs. Van Cruger, by Isa Floyd, was a most interesting character. This part was performed with the dignity and grace of the original. Ama Barker as Sally captivated her audience. She played her part with naturalness and ease. Miss Sedley, the snappish old maid, was played by Bettie Peaveyhouse. Bettie was "tart" sure enough. She made your mouth water when she spoke, on account of her "vinegar" temper. Tony, The Convict, by James Hall, was a many-sided character, yet James mastered the plot and peculiarly complicated parts so well that he brought his audience alternately to laughter and tears. James Barkley, the villain, was played by Tom Back. Tom made up fine throughout this character and showed strong acting. Roger Hicks played Warden Burrows and his part was dignified and self-possessed. This was rendered with credit to himself and it was received with applause by the audience. Philip Warburton, the tutor to Miss Hellenia Warren, was characterized by Charley Dunn. Charley, though young in years, seems to have been there before. In every complex situation Charley was more than master. Weary Wayside "from wayback" was played by John Hicks. John had the house holding both its sides "mit laughter." This part was very amusing. John deserves great credit for his rendition of his part. Last, but not least, came Jackson, our "mister colored nigger," played by Charley Myera. Charley "joshes" nuf do know how to act de nigger, but he don't like for Mr. Weary Wayside to stand long on his "chist."

The Lash of A Flend.

would have been about as welcome to A. Cooper, of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It was most troublesome at night," he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never cough at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, la grippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hayfever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. The Interior Journal.

SHELTON M. SAUFLEY, OWNER.

HON. HARVEY HELM

of Lincoln county, is a candidate for re-nomination for Congress from the Eighth district, subject to the action of the democratic party.

A FOND ADIEU.

With this issue of the INTERIOR JOURNAL my connection with it ceases. Its readers have already been informed that the paper was sold to Mr. Shelton M. Saufley February first, but at his request, I continued in control till he could arrange his Frankfort affairs and fill his contracts with a number of newspapers to furnish them the Legislative proceedings. The Legislature is about to adjourn now and he is free to take charge of his property, which his large and varied newspaper experience insures that he will manage with marked ability. I could not have sold it to a better qualified man and the patrons of the paper may be sure that he will improve the high standard I tried to maintain.

Worn out by unremitting labor and broken in health, I would not have, even under those circumstances, sold the paper to a less competent man, for it has been the love of my youth and the pride of maturer years, cherished almost with the affection one feels for his offspring; so I could not have agreed to its decline.

In retiring from the paper, I hope I will be excused for a little personal reminiscence. In November, 1881, after the death of my father and the consequent breaking up of our home and family ties, I came to Stanford to live with my brother, Mr. W. P. Walton, who had, in 1875, bought the INTERIOR JOURNAL from the late F. J. Campbell, who started it in 1872. A mere youth at that time, I soon got the fascination of a printing office and learned to set type. Afterwards, I became reporter and solicitor, continuing in these positions until I bought the paper in 1900. Since then I have done the entire editorial and reportorial work, with scarcely any assistance, in addition to soliciting and collecting and making a hand and a half in the printing department. I have worked day and night to give the INTERIOR JOURNAL patrons a paper worthy of their support, and the liberal patronage that they have given it during all these years assures me that I have not labored in vain. The work, however, has proved too much for me, and I retire broken in health and old before my time.

I do not suppose any publisher ever personally knew as many of his subscribers and patrons as I do, or ever had more pleasant relations with them. It is therefore with the deepest regret that I say goodbye to them as a newspaper man. They have encouraged me with good words and helped me in a material way to such an extent that I can never forget or cease to love them.

Of my immediate neighbors and closest friends, I cannot speak too much or too affectionately. They have stood by me through evil as well as good report, and I shall never cease to cherish them in memory as long as God shall give me life.

My plans for the future are not fully matured, but go where I will, Stanford will always feel like home to me and no matter where my lot is cast, I shall think of it as the dearest spot on earth and of its people as God's chosen. To them, to my patrons every one, and to the newspaper fraternity which has treated me so considerately and kindly, I beg to express my gratitude and hope that they will always think of me in kindness and respect.

It is rather remarkable that the INTERIOR JOURNAL should have been in the Walton family for an even number of years, or thirty-five. The previous owner printed his salutatory March 5, 1875, and I write it out of the family March 11, 1910.

A poet speaks of "that sweet old word, goodbye," but in this instance it is far from sweet to me. Indeed it is painful, but it must be said; so, goodbye, good luck and God bless you all.

E. C. WALTON.

BEACH/HARGIS is getting his last. He was finally landed in the penitentiary for life this week and Curt Jett, his cousin, has promised to make him "a good convict." The task of making the young patrician good for anything seems to an observer of the young scamp's career to be a hopeless undertaking.

THE Legislative Committee reports that Adjutant General Johnson is temperamentally unfit for the office. This seems to be all wrong. A general should be a fighter and did not the General prove that he was by assaulting an unsuspecting newspaper man?

GOV. WILLSON wasted $389.78 95 in trotting the militia over the State after night riders, with little result, and is now begging the Legislature to create a bond issue to pay it. The body should give him the horse laugh.

WITH hogs passed the $10 a hundred mark and lambs bringing $10.50, who wouldn't be a farmer and with the farmers stand?

POLITICAL GOSSIP BY THE EDITOR.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 9.—The death of George B. Saufley has cast a gloom over the entire Lincoln county contingent here at the capital. To every man of them he was well known and by all beloved. Everyone of them regretted exceedingly that the constant work required now that the Legislative session is about to close, prevented them from being present to pay their last tribute of love and respect when the mortal remains of this noble young man were laid for the last long sleep in the bosom of mother earth. Judges of the Court of Appeals, officials high in life as men count honor, and leaders in his profession from far and wide over the Commonwealth spoke with sincere regret when news of his death was received here. It was agreed by all that Kentucky has not in many years produced any young man whose future seemed more brilliant in the learned chambers of the law; nor one more fitted by nature to adorn every high position to which he might be called.

THE VETO AX FALLS.

Gov. Willson swung his veto ax for the first time this session on the Klair bill, providing a heavy fine for anyone who may buy or solicit the sale of a pooled farm product. This bill was aimed at those who endeavor to purchase pooled tobacco, and the Executive pronounced it a very dangerous measure and manifestly a deadly blow to the rights of the farmers to sell their products and the right of having purchasers compete to buy them. The sentiment is greatly against the Governor, however, in both Houses, and strongly in favor of anything that the tobacco societies desire. The consequence was that the bill was passed over the Governor's veto by both Houses.

A SOP TO THE GOVERNOR.

The circuit judges of the State have had their salaries raised and the Governor let it go through, though he had written out his veto but then changed his mind, as he does frequently. On Tuesday the House passed the Senate bill increasing the salaries of the prison commissioners from $2,600 a year to $3,000, with $600 additional for the chairman of the board. It has been expected that the Governor would surely get this one with his veto ax, and as he has final power these last days, there would be no recourse. However, a bill was offered in the Senate appropriating $3,000 additional a year for "contingent expenses" of the Governor's office. This virtually means $3,000 extra per year for the Governor. As he now receives $6,500 a year and the use of the mansion, if this sop which has been prepared for him in the hope of getting by with other large expenditures, goes through, the Governorship is going to be a pretty soft office, after all. The question is, will the Governor take the bait?

RULES COMMITTEE IT.

The Rules Committee of both Houses are the whole things and all who have bills that they want passed have to know to these august bodies before there's any use asking any other member to support them. Unless the Rules Committee will bring the measures "out" there is no chance for them to be put before the two Houses. Members of these all-powerful bodies are kept on the run all the time. Will Shanks says that he hardly has time to eat or sleep. The committeemen have a way of referring a petition to some other member, but this is getting to be an old gag now, and some other excuse will have to be invented, for the members won't stand for it longer.

FOR A BETTER LEXINGTON.

The House passed a bill this week which would give Lexington the right to vote on the question of adoption of a commission plan of government, such as has proved so successful in Galveston and other Western cities. Lexington has been ring-ridden so long that a great part of the best citizenship favors the new plan. It is non-partisan and puts a city strictly on a business basis of administration.

BETHURUMS ARE LIVE WIRES.

Judge B. J. Bethurum and a delegation of prominent Pulaski county citizens arrived here Monday to make protest before the Senate against the passage of the new county bill, which the House passed. Among those with him were Editor Cecil Williams, of the Somerset Times, Postmaster W. M. Catron, Attorney J. N. Sharp and others. Representative M. G. Colson took his fellow countians in charge and showed them the sights. Those opposed to the new county bill say that the only good purpose it would serve would be to furnish some nice fat offices for a hungry bunch of office-seekers in the territory proposed to be cut from Wayne, Pulaski and Whitley and made into Wilson county. Many members of the House voted for the bill simply because it would honor Speaker Wilson. Judge Bethurum is serving his first term on the circuit bench and is making a splendid record. He has just finished up a big docket at Somerset, several murder cases being tried. As a result seven new boarders were added to the flat of Warden Mudd's guests behind the big gray walls here. Judge Bethurum is a former Rockcastle county boy. It seems to run in the Bethurum family to furnish men for the higher positions of life. His brother, Judge L. W. Bethurum, presides over the county court at Mt. Vernon and both hold records for personal popularity at their respective homes. S. M. S.

The Dean bill giving cities the right to vote on the liquor question regardless of whether the county went wet or dry, was defeated in the Ohio Senate by a vote of 16 yeas to 18 nays. Evidently the saloons in the Ohio Senate are not as wet as their brother Kentucky Senators.

POLITICAL.

Gov. Willson sent a special message to the General Assembly in which he recommends the creation of a commission to represent Kentucky in the general movement for uniform State laws.

The post-office appropriation bill, carrying appropriations aggregating $241,000,000, was passed in the House, while the Senate disposed of the agricultural bill with total appropriations of $13,900,000.

Gov. C. N. Haskell, of Oklahoma, vetoed the so-called Taylor election bill under which, it is claimed, most of the Negroes of the State would be barred from voting on constitutional amendments.

Gov. Willson vetoed the Klair bill, providing for legal registration of agreements for pooling farm products, basing his objection on the section of the act providing a heavy penalty for "any person buying or soliciting pooled or pledged property, lists of which have been recorded." The bill was passed over the Governor's veto by big majorities in both Houses.

How To Collect Your Notes and Accounts.

How can I collect what is owing me? This is the all important question with every merchant, wholesale firm, business and professional men, farmers—and, in fact, every one—to-day. Never has the question been so prominent in the business world as it is today. The loss of a few accounts may eat up your profits in business; the failure to collect a note makes you that much poorer; not being able, or in a position, to give the proper attention, knowledge or experience to the adjustment or examination into some claim in which you have an interest may cause you the loss of many dollars. Our province and our business is to help you in these matters. Whether it is a NOTE or ACCOUNT you are not able to collect; or whether it is some claim in which you have an interest which needs looking into carefully, we are prepared to do it, and do it promptly. This is our business; we make it a study: We have the facilities and we have the experience, and the fact that we have collected many dollars which were given up as lost, is one of our best arguments in favor of what we can do. Our terms are reasonable, and we make no charges unless we collect: We make collections anywhere in the United States. We recently collected an account for a firm in the adjoining county against a man in California. If you have a claim which needs looking after, or a note or account which you want collected, no matter how large or how small, or where the parties live, send it to us. We solicit your business. MRS. NANNIE B. GOOD, of the Turnersville section, is critically ill.

MESSRS W. S. FINN and Jesse D. Wearen attended court at Liberty Monday.

MISS BESSIE FOWLER has returned from a two weeks' visit to Livingston.

MRS. ELIZA FOREMAN, of Mt. Sterling, is here at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Nancy Smith.

MR. FRANK YANKEY entertained at his home near Springfield in honor of Misses Mary and Jane Tammie, of Stanford.

MRS. NANNIE WOODS KITCHEN has returned from a delightful visit to her cousin, Mrs. Joseph E. Johnson, at Pittsburg.

MISS NELL CLARK, trimmer for Miss Ella May Saunders, arrived yesterday from her home in Indiana to resume her duties.

REV. AND MRS. HOMER CARPENTER, of Shelbyville, and Miss Patay Prewitt, of Lexington, attended the burial of Mr. George B. Sautley.

MRS. T. S. WEBB and son, Shap Webb, of Knoxville, and Mr. James M. Sautley, of Grayville, Tenn., attended the burial of Mr. Geo. B. Sautley.

FOREST POLEY and wife, of Bedford, Ind., were on Wednesday's train en route to Crab Orchard to see her father, Mr. Samuel F. Reynolds, who is very ill.

MR. AND MRS. W. A. YEAGER have moved back to Fork Ridge, Tenn., from Bellaire, Kansas. The death of Mr. Yeager's father made it necessary for them to return.

MR. B. P. SHEWMAKER, who has made the Q. & C. a splendid agent at Moreland for many years, has resigned and Mr. W. W. Kew, of Austin, Tenn., has succeeded him.

MISS BERTHA CONNER, who nursed Mr. George B. Sautley during his long illness, will return to her headquarters in Louisville tomorrow. She is a conscientious, christian woman and greatly endeared herself to Judge Sautley and his entire family.

LOCALS.

RINK Saturday night.

PURE Plymouth Rock eggs, $1 for setting of 15. Mrs. A. R. Nunnally, Turnersville.

WANTED—Some country meat—hams, sides, shoulders, jowls, etc.—at the Country Store.

STATE College chemists say that the Stanford Water Works water is all right for drinking purposes.

ANOTHER car of cotton seed meal at J. H. Baughman & Co.'s. We handle only the 41 per cent. goods; the best.

MONDAY will be county court day. Drop in and meet the new editor, tell us some news, and if you are not in too big a rush pay for your paper.

WE have farms in Hardin county in 50-acre tracts to 900 acres, and prices from $300 to $11,000. These lands produce fine Burley tobacco. Stanford Real Estate Co.

BUNK RAUM, the wealthy Negro blind tiger operator of Danville, was fined $2,800 and sentenced to the workhouse for 300 days. His wife was given $70 and ten days in the workhouse in one case.

ONE white man and several Negroes have been indicted for selling whisky here but until they are proven guilty we will withhold their names. By the way, will our people sit idly by and see the law against selling whisky broken every day in the year? Let's wake up and try to stop it, or give up the ghost.

A BEAUTIFUL EVENT.—The Delsarte entertainment at the Gem Opera House Friday evening, given by Mrs. A. D. Reid's class in physical culture, was a beautiful event. No audience has left the Gem this season so delighted with an evening's entertainment.—Somerset Journal, 1905. The same program will be given at Walton's Opera House tonight. Don't miss it.

FOR SALE.—200 locust posts, Frank Shoemaker, Stanford, No. 2.

WANTED—Some nice, fresh butter at the Country Store—30c per pound.

New line of wall paper and picture moulding just in. J. L. Heazley & Co.

RINK.—There will be skating at Walton's Opera House Saturday night, March 12. Go and have a good time.

Claiborne Walton, manager.

You are cordially invited to attend the millinery opening Saturday March 19th. The best and most up-to-date line of goods ever shown in Hustonville. Miss Cora Lipps and Sister.

EVERYTHING is ready for the Delsarte entertainment tonight. A great many tickets have been sold and the house will be crowded. Get your seats reserved at once at Shugars & Tanner's drug store.

THE I. J. is in error and for once the editor is glad of it. It is stated that Mrs. Belle Austin, of Lancaster, was dead and news comes that she not only is not dead but is convalescing from a severe illness.

Gov. WILLSON appointed Hon. P. M. McRoberts, of this place, special judge of the Garrard Circuit Court to preside in the place of Judge M. C. Sautley, who was detained at home by the death of his son, Mr. George B. Sautley.

THE Tribble House in Junction City, Mr. W. A. Tribble, proprietor, burned at an early hour Tuesday morning. The building cost $16,000 and was insured for $5,000. It is believed that the gasoline lighting apparatus started the fire.

115-ACRE farm three miles from Stanford on good pike and in splendid community. In high state of cultivation; has a two-story frame dwelling, new barn and all necessary outbuildings. Place well watered and fenced. Will sell at right figure. Stanford Real Estate Co.

SPEEDY JUSTICE.—Clarence Adams, colored, was arrested Wednesday evening for stealing a pair of check lines from Wallace McWhorter and when faced with the charge, confessed. He was brought before Judge James P. Bailey, who gave him 30 days and, yesterday he began working out his fine.

Mrs. G. D. SMILEY, relict of Squire Smiley, late of this county, died at the home of her son, Jno. Smiley, on Frye's Creek, Casey county. She had been living for many years in Birmingham and had been visiting her sons, Z. T., of Lexington, and John, of this section. Her age was 80 years and she was a life-long member of the church.

MAYWOOD.—Miss Dissie Harrington, of Eubanks, is visiting Miss Emma Boone. Miss Sue Lognn Smith, of Rowland, is visiting her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Boone. Mrs. F. M. Campbell is at home from Rowland, where she has been at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. H. B. Smith, who continues very ill. Mrs. J. H. Boone has been quite sick. Mr. W. H. Boone, who has been ill with grip, is able to be out.

KILLED HIMSELF.—O. C. Bilderbeck, one of Somerset's well-known citizens, committed suicide at his home near that city by shooting. No cause is assigned. He killed his wife and walked out to the barn to look after some stock and upon hearing a shot ring out, his wife ran to the barn and found him sitting up against the barn with a bullet hole through his head, from which his brains were oozing. He had purchased his farm and moved to it only two weeks ago.

IT is with much regret that the citizens of the Crab Orchard section learn that the much esteemed citizen, Geo. W. Edwards, has determined to leave Lincoln county and the State of Kentucky and migrate to the State of Oklahoma. Mr. Edwards is one of our most useful and industrious citizens and was accumulating this world's goods surely and honestly. His sale was held yesterday. George, we shall often think of you, and now and then send a thought after us! F. F. B.

FOR SALE.—A second-hand Frig. car. W. H. Higgins.

THOROUGHbred Black Minorca eggs, $1 per setting. Mrs. W. H. Wearen.

BEAUTIFUL line of spring and summer suitings just received for your inspection. Call in and see them. H. C. Ripley.

WANTED, to trade lumber for barn patterns for corn and hay. J. C. J. Sipple, London.

THAT always good and interesting paper, The Somerset Journal, has just celebrated its 12th year. May it continue to grow and prosper.

TO THE PUBLIC.—The companies represented by Fish & Pennington have made satisfactory adjustments and settlements with me for the tobacco burned in the Baughman warehouse on the night of March 4. W. P. Kincaid.

MR. E. L. REINHART has sold his stock of groceries to O. P. Hoffman & Sons, who will move their butcher business to the Reinhart store. Mr. Reinhart retains his news and laundry agencies and will be glad to wait on his patrons at the old stand.

80-ACRE farm about seven miles from Stanford. Land all cleared and in good state of cultivation; six-room cottage, barn, double crib, etc. Right on pike, close to good school house and church and in good community. Well watered and fenced. Price $2,000. Stanford Real Estate Co.

TOMBS.—Mrs. Anna E. Tombs, widow of John Tombs, died at her home in the McKinney section of pneumonia, aged 71. She leaves several grown children. Deceased was a devout member of the Baptist church and a most excellent woman. The burial occurred in the McKinney cemetery, after appropriate remarks by Mr. J. C. McClary.

TAKE NO CHANCES.—There were 12 "Legal Reserve" Companies organized in the South alone, in 1909. There are 22 companies in the South now in process of organization, each claiming to be able ultimately to absorb the other. Some of them will fail. If you have money to invest in insurance, place it with the "Old Reliable" Mutual Benefit, nearly three quarters of a century old, and one that will be here when many of these new companies are only a memory. Write for sample policy to R. M. Newland, agt., Stanford, Ky.

You cannot afford to miss the Delsarte entertainment by Mrs. Reid's class in physical culture and elocution at Walton's Opera House tonight. The program will be highly entertaining throughout. The Aurora, (Ind.), Independent says: "Mrs. Reid's entertainment at the Grand Opera House was charming indeed. From the initial rising of the curtain to its final fall the audience was well pleased. This entertainment will please any audience that is capable of recognizing and appreciating a good thing when seen. It is worth double the price of admission." Don't miss it here tonight by our home talent.

On returning home after a month's stay in Florida, during which time his residence on West Third street was closed, Colonel W. P. Walton found that his home had been entered by forcing open a window and breaking the inside blind. The house was in a torn-up condition, but as yet nothing of much value has been found missing. The bacon and other edibles were gone and the cook stove shows that they were prepared for food on it by the bold burglars. They also turned on the water and the pipes froze and burst, causing the kitchen to be flooded and much other damage. They seemed to have a penchant for baseball as the outfits of Colonel Walton's little sons were stolen, along with most of their other playthings.—Lexington Herald

CHURCH MATTERS.

Rev. W. S. Willis' subject at the Hustonville Christian church next Sunday morning will be "A More Excellent Way." At Night, "Obeying and Knowing."

Rev. W. S. Willis, assisted by the good women of his church, will give a banquet to the men of the church at the opera house in Hustonville March 18th at 7:30 P. M. A number of excellent speakers will make it a delightful and profitable occasion.

Here and There.

A new bank was organized at Harlan with a capital stock of $25,000.

D. M. Anderson sold to J. F. Cook & Co., of Lexington, a jack colt for $350.

John McRoberts has sold his Bluegrass farm of 150 acres, near Danville, on the Lancaster pike, to John Whitaker, of Madison county, at $110.

"Parson" Wallace, a Negro preacher, was lynched by a mob at Greenwood, Miss., which sought revenge for the serious wounding of Patrolman J. W. Slack by the Negro.

The highest price for dark tobacco ever paid on the loose floor in Kentucky was reached when $15.50 a hundred was given at Hopkinsville for a crop raised in East Christian county. It was purchased for the Bremen trade.

Sanford Love called at the house of his fiancée, Miss Lottie Murden, in Marion, Ill., and shot her twice, once in the breast and once in the back as she turned from him. She died in a few hours. Eight years ago Love shot another young woman, Nora Miller, to whom he was engaged to be married.

The 1910 pooling campaign of the Burley Tobacco Society was inaugurated at Tuesday's meeting of the district board of the organization at Lexington. Sixty-three counties of Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia are represented.

Auctioneer W. P. Prewitt writes that at Richmond Monday plug horses sold at $15 to $95, plug mules $30 to $80, good mules $115 to $175, pairs of mules $180 to $240. About 700 cattle sold at 3 1/2 to 5 1/2c. The demand for cattle was good and the pens were cleared.

Dan Varrick, the richly-bred trotting stallion belonging to Dr. G. G. Perry, will make the season of 1910 at E. P. Woods & Son's farm under the management of James H. Woods. He will stand at $15 to insure, which is very low considering his splendid individuality and breeding.

BARGAIN.—267 7-10 acre farm about five miles from town, on good pike, 1/2 mile from school, church and store, 100 acres fine tobacco land. Nine room brick residence, 240-barrel crib, shed granary, silo, barns, etc. Fencing good and place well watered. Nine never-failing springs, cement troughs, etc. In a splendid neighborhood. Stanford Real Estate Co.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause break downs. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at Penny's Drug Store.

Death of a Prominent and Good Citizen.

CRAB ORCHARD, MAR. 8.—The death of Jesse N. Singleton was a great shock to this community. For 68 years he was among the people of this county and died in the house in which he was born in 1842. His life was a whole chapter of good deeds, generous acts and noble deportment that built for him in the affections of the people a monument as pure as Tennyson's monument of basalt in the frozen zone, and his reputation was as spotless as the winter's snow that capped its frozen brow. While miller for my brother-in-law at Dix river bridge for years, we roomed together, and a nobler, braver, more generous man I never saw. He was one of nature's true noblemen upon a throne of integrity. When my sister would send the poor women of the neighborhood with the message, "Jesse give these poor women some meal and flour," he obeyed the gentle request as cheerfully as if they presented a check gilt with gold. At the George James mill at which he was miller for years, he was the grandest distributor of flour and meal to the poor that I ever saw. Sober, quiet, industrious, noble, generous! I occupied the same room with him for years and if he had a fault I never knew it. Dear friend Jesse, I wish I could read my titles as clear to mansions in the skies as you can! The lives and morals of such men as Jesse N. Singleton make me resolve to live a holy life that I, too, after death, may go where they have gone. A friend,
 FONTAINE FOX BOBBITT.

The sincere condolence and sympathy of the entire community goes out to Judge M. C. Saufley and wife in the loss of their son, George B. Saufley. A young man upon whose shoulders the mantle of his distinguished father promised to rest so gracefully, a lawyer of marked ability and a gentleman in every sense of the word, his passing into the great beyond at the age of 28 years brought to an untimely end a career that promised much for his State and country, and we mingle our tears with those who bow in sorrow to this inscrutable dispensation of Providence and tender to them all the consolation that human hearts can offer.—Advocate.

A Man of Iron Nerve.

Indoubtable will and tremendous energy are never found where Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills, the matchless regulators, for keen brain and strong body. 25c at Penny's Drug Store.
